

XM Radio provides a valuable source of new, entertainment and information for us. It in now way negates our also listening to the regular broadcast stations. It is especially usefull in that we live in a fringe area in which we loose most broadcast stations after dark. And as a truck driver, I can still listen to my radio, when I am out of reach of local stations plus programing that is not always available locally when travaling cross country. Just as cable did nt put the broadcasters out of business, XM won't either.
